"The middle of the sixties was a stirring time out in Japan. That was just after the Simonosaki bombardment, and before the Daimio affair. There was a Tory party and there was a Liberal party among the natives, and the question that they were wrestling over was whether the throats of the foreigners should be cut or not. I tell you all, politics have been tame to me since then. If you lived in a treaty port, you were bound to wake up and take an interest in them. And to make it better, the outside had no way of knowing how the game was going. If the opposition won it would not be a newspaper paragraph that would tell him of it, but a good old Tory in a suit of chain mail, with a sword in each hand, would drop in and let him know all about it in a single upper out.

night such as this too? No wonder the ladies turned pale and screamed in the strange way a sleeper screams under the influence of a torrible nightmare.

Captain Ben and Frank rose at once and rubed on deck. The rost crept together at one end of the saloon to wait and listen.

. The mate was at the top of the companion to receive his captain. He had a ship's lauters in his hand and now tok his way forward, the others following mechanically as it were. Past the hatchways up through which the gleams of light from the engine room fires rose in red straight rays, entting and percing the inky gloom above, as if with swords of flame, past the mainmast, past the foremast and into outer darkness beyond. The mate held the antern one moment on high and its yellow my glimmered on the pale and frightened faces of the men gathered round the bows. PEINCE GEOBJE AT THE WORLD'S PAIR. London, 12th January. It is said on very good authority that Prince George of Wales is seriously contemplating a trip to America during the coming spring in order to participate in the naval review in a steamer specially chartered for the purpose. in New York harbour. The idea is favourably regarded by the Queen, the Prince of Water, and the heads of the Admiralty. If Prince seorge goes he will-be escorted across the Atlantic by several men of war and it is probable that a large squadron of battleships and ornisers will be sent over in advance to receive

The Prince also contemplates a trip to the Chicago exposition after the festivities at New York are over. But nothing as yet has been definitely settled.

FRANCE PATING OUT GOLD. Washington, 12th January. The director of the mint has received a cablegram from Paris stating that the Bank of France is disbursing gold heavily, for the reason that the legal limit of note innes has been reached, and also because of the recent large withdrawal of notes by banks and others for the purpose of increasing reserves.

It is believed at the Treasury Department that large disbursements of gold by the Bank of France, being directly contracy to the policy it has purered for the last ten years, will have the effect of sensibly reducing the export of gold from the United States: The Bank of France. it is stated, has $300,000,000 of gold in its vaults, the accumulation of many years.

A PAISTING SET ON FIRE BY ELECTRIC LIGHT Hotels-NEW YORK, 11th January. "The Death of David Rizzio," one of the first and best paintings of Gustave Dore, which has been on exhibition for some time as a part of the Dore gallery at Carnegia Music Hall, was so badly damaged by fire this more-ing as to be practically rained. The pointing has occupied a place in one end of the hall appropriately opposite "The Vale of Tears," Dore's last work, which he finished but did not not live long enough to sign. The rained painting, which was 8 feet 6 inches high and 10 feet 6 inches wide, was in large frame cooupying a space between two pillars. Electricity is used to light the gallery and the electric light wires passed along the pillars, touching the wood work of the frame. When discovered this woodwork was on fire, and the flames rapidly spread to the canvas. The fire was put out, but the painting was ruined, The fines had licked the left side and a large part of the upper corner and heat and smoke had fatally marred the work. THE DUCHESS OF MARLESCORGE: The American Duchess of Marlborough has effectually set at rest all prejudiced reports that have been set affect ton hing upon unpleasant relations that wire supposed to exist between her and her stepson, the new Dake of Marlbo-rough, by giving him a clean deed gift to all the repairs, improve sents, additions and alterations she had caused to be made in Blenheim Castle, although she is never likely to reside there again. By this set of liberality and respect for the memory of her dead husband the Duchess' Downger has won golden opinions from all the Churchill convections, with whom she can never now be on anything but the best of terms. The Duchess has taken a furnished house in Brunswick Terrace, Brighton, in which she will make
